

Continuing to deliver the National Redress Scheme: Key measures in Australia's 2023–24 May Budget

$142.2 million over 5 years

Funding of $142.2 million over 5 years from 2023–24 will be provided to support the delivery of the National Redress Scheme (the Scheme), ensuring it continues to meet the needs of survivors.

- ▶ The investment will improve both the predictability of application processing timeframes and the quality and consistency of outcomes.

$80.1 million

Of this funding, $80.1 million will be dedicated to Redress Support Services which assists survivors to access Redress.

- ▶ This will ensure survivors feel confident that free independent support, delivered in a culturally-safe and trauma-informed way, will continue to be available to them.

Funding for improving survivor-focused Scheme

This Budget also supports the finalisation of the Government's response to the Second Year Review of the Scheme (the Review).

- ▶ The final response will address all recommendations in the Review and supports positive, survivor-focused improvements to the Scheme.
